

Gardeners to discuss tomato growing secrets

The Chatham Community Garden will hold its All-Gardener Annual Meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 20, with a guest speaker discussing how to grow better tomatoes.

All plot-holders at the Community Garden -- and all gardeners throughout the Chathams -- are invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Library of the Chathams Lundt Meeting Room. The guest speaker is Peter Nizsche, Morris County Agricultural Agent.

A limited number of plots at the Community Garden are still available for the 2018 season. More information and applications are available on the Chatham Borough and Chatham Township websites. Plots at the Community Garden are ideal for people who love to grow fresh vegetables and flowers, but who don't have enough space or sunshine for a garden at their home, townhouse or apartment.

Full 10X10 plots cost $35 for the entire 2018 season. Half plots are available for $18.

At the All-Gardener Meeting, refreshments will be served. Door prizes, including gift certificates to The Farm at Green Village, will be awarded to lucky winners. And gardeners can learn how to grow better tomatoes from an expert.

The goal of the Chatham Community Garden is to provide an environment for individuals and families to grow a thriving garden, to build and nurture community friendships, and to share and grow gardening skills.
